

From the A1 South

Take the A1 North until you reach Dunbar. At the Thistly Cross roundabout where the A1 meets the A1087, turn right following signs to North Berwick, after around 400m you will arrive at another roundabout, take the 2nd exit following the signs north to Berwick. After a further mile turn right along the A198 again following signs to North Berwick. Follow this road for around 2 miles before passing through the village of Whitekirk, after approximately a further 2 miles the road takes a sharp 90 degree bend to the left where directly in front of you is the sandstone wall of a farm building with an arch built into the face. Continue for a further 200 metres passing a row of terraced cottages on your right, the road then takes a sharp 90 degree bend to the right and at that point continue directly ahead down the lane in front of you – do not follow the road around to the right. Continue on for 200 metres passing two houses on your right and one on your left, about 100 metres after the house on the left, turn left into a concrete road with a large green corrugated shed on the right hand side, we are the second building on the right hand side.

From the A1 North

At the junction of the A198 turn off the A1 and take the 2nd exit at the immediate roundabout. Cross the railway line and turn right at the next roundabout following signs for North Berwick. Continue for around 3 miles going through Longniddry and take the 2nd exit at the next roundabout along the B1377. Continue to follow the B1377 for around 9 miles passing through Drem and you will arrive at a T-junction. Turn right at the T-junction back onto the A198 towards North Berwick, after around 2 miles you will enter the town. Go through the traffic lights and then after a further 500m as the road begins to slope downhill turn right at the crossroads up Station Road signposted Railway Station, A198, Dunbar. Follow the road for around another mile until you arrive at a T junction opposite the town playing fields, then turn right. After about 400m you will arrive at a roundabout, turn left and follow the road past Tesco and then out of the town. Continue for another 1.5 miles passing Tantal Castle on your left handside, after a further 200 metres the road turns 90 degrees to the left and at that point turn right down the side lane. Continue on for 200 metres passing two houses on your right and one on your left, about 100 metres after the house on the left, turn left into a concrete road with a large green corrugated shed on the right hand side, we are the second building on the right hand side.
